"More than a trail, a wild immersion."

"If the adventure grows,
it's thanks to you."

A WORD ON THE 4TH EDITION

We're back. Stronger, wilder.

Since the first edition, you have run our trails, slept beneath our stars and shared bread at the bivouac. Every word of feedback shaped this edition: the most immersive, and best supported.

Recognition

Your trust, edition after edition, drives everything we build.

More bivouac

More time spent in the heart of the park, where the adventure truly comes alive.

More immersion

An experience even closer to nature, silence and the stars.

More sharing

Bivouac life reimaged to spark new encounters.

Better organized

Stronger welcome, comfort and safety — without betraying the wild soul.

"You don't step into a backdrop.
You step into a living land."

THE TERRITORY

Chefchaouen, the Rif & Talassemtane.

At the foot of the Rif, the blue city opens the gates to a pristine national park: limestone cliffs, deep forests, green valleys and stone villages. A landscape made for trail running.

The blue pearl

Chefchaouen and its azure alleys, clinging to the slopes of the Rif.

Forests & fir woods

Morocco's last fir woods: oaks, pines, centuries-old cedars.

Waterfalls & canyons

Akchour, God's Bridge, gorges and wild rivers.

Wildlife & villages

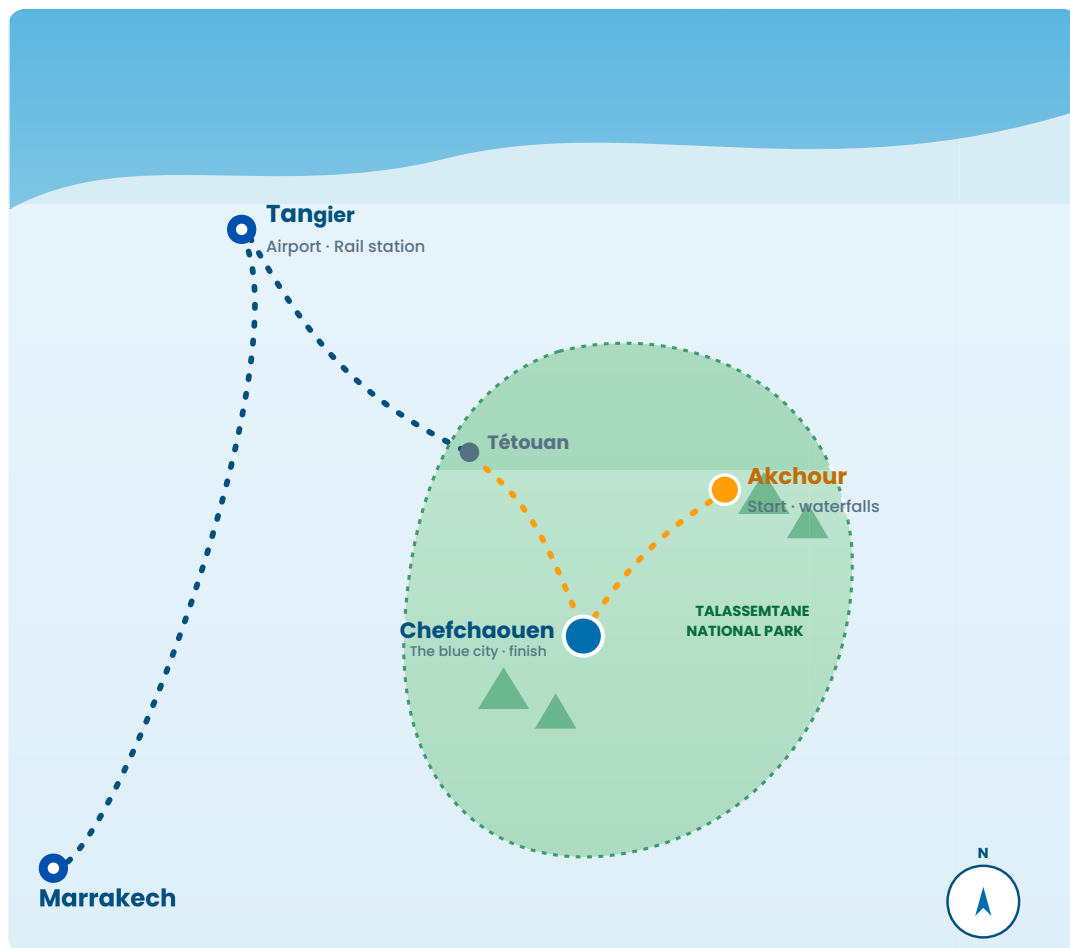

Barbary macaques, raptors, hamlets clinging to the slopes.

WHERE THE ADVENTURE UNFOLDS

Chefchaouen, in the heart of the Rif.

Nestled in the Rif mountains, two hours from Tangier, the blue city is the gateway to Talassemtane National Park. It is here, between Akchour and Chefchaouen, that the whole adventure plays out.

 Talassemtane National Park — forests, waterfalls, ridges.

 The Moroccan Rif — one of the wildest ranges in the country.

What we come looking for here.

A different idea of trail

Not just another race, but a journey over several days.

Sleep in the park

Nights in bivouac beneath an untouched canopy of stars.

A rare territory

Forests, canyons and ridges of the Rif, far from the crowds.

Bivouac life

Shared meals, recovery, encounters between runners.

A landscape unlike any in Morocco

From the blue medina to the wild summits.

Human above all

A sporting, natural and deeply human experience.

(schedule, meeting points) is shared before the event.

EACH DAY, A HIGHLIGHT

The start

The adrenaline of the grand start in Akchour, at daybreak.

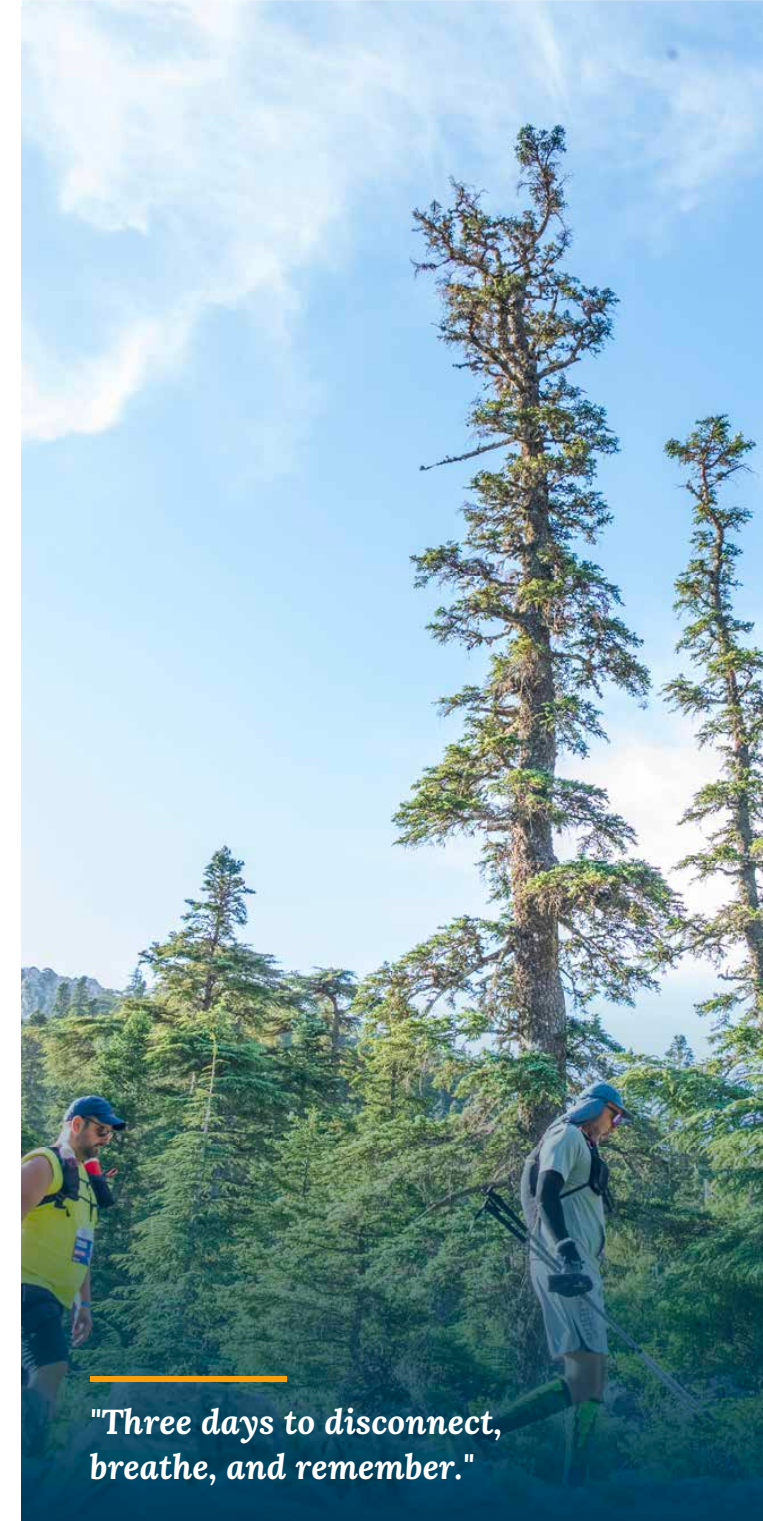

The bivouac

Evening gatherings in the park, far from the world and from time.

The finish

The descent into Chefchaouen and the prize ceremony.

"Three days to disconnect, breathe, and remember."

Life at the bivouac.

At the heart of Talassemtane National Park, the bivouac is more than just accommodation: it is the race village. A place where effort settles, and where strangers become companions on the trail.

Sleep in the heart of the park

Equipped bivouac: comfortable tents, rest areas, and caring support throughout.

The evening table

Shared meals inspired by the flavours of the Rif, to restore the body and warm the soul.

The fire and the stories

The true spirit of stage racing: sharing stories, laughing together, and reliving the day's run.

The silence and the stars

Waking up to birdsong and the whisper of rivers. Nothing else.

“Run, sleep, and share in the heart of the Rif.”

★ NEW FOR 2027

The adventure, for companions too.

"At Chefchaouen Talassemrane, the adventure isn't lived with a race bib alone."

A dedicated programme

An adventure without a bib, while the runners set off.

The park's ecosystem

The biodiversity of Talassemrane:

wildlife, flora, landscapes.

Villages & culture

The villages of the Rif, their traditions and crafts.

Reunions

We meet again at the bivouac and finish: the adventure is lived together.
